St Matthew's Catholic Primary School Student Behaviour Support Plan

A WHOLE SCHOOL APPROACH TO BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT

Positive Behaviour for Learning

School Mission and Vision – Teach Challenge Transform

St Matthew's is a Catholic learning community dedicated to the holistic education of our community through faith, knowledge and love. Following in the tradition of St Mary of the Cross Mackillop, we live the message of Jesus, as we welcome and treat all with kindness, dignity and respect.

Policy Vision

Engaged and motivated learners always faithful to our loving God "Every Child, Every Day".

We Value Dignity

- Each person has the right to be accepted and to belong and has a responsibility to accept others and help them to belong and feel welcome.
- Each person will be addressed by name.
- Each person will use words and actions that promote and display good manners.
- Each person has the right to be treated with dignity.

We Value Respect

- Each person has the right to be respected.
- Each person will recognise others' need for privacy of property, person and information.

We Value Kindness

- Each person will work to promote a sense of kindness and compassion in all relationships that develop within the community.

School Context

St Matthew's Catholic Primary School is situated in Logan City 30km south of Brisbane. St Matthew's School was established in 1984 by the Sisters of St Joseph and they have contributed greatly to the development and culture of our school. The school is a three-stream school from Prep – Year 6 and has a current enrolment of approximately 550 students.

Consultation and Review Process.

This policy was developed initially in 2010 through a consultation process and is reviewed annually. In 2018 a committee reviewed the policy for implementation in 2019. The policy will be reviewed every 2 years with a high level check performed annually.

Section A - Our Student Behaviour Support Systems

1. Our Beliefs and Common Philosophy about Learning and Teaching.

Our beliefs about teaching and learning socially at school, student behaviour supports, and responding to students to meet their needs, unify us and direct our actions. They also direct decisions we make, the practices we choose and how we interact with others.

The following beliefs reflect current literature in positive behaviour supports:

- Schools play a vital role in promoting the intellectual, physical, social, emotional, moral and spiritual and aesthetic development and wellbeing of young Australians (Melbourne Declaration).
- Every day at school, students have the opportunity to learn and practice social skills and develop General Capabilities through the curriculum (ACARA).
- Behaviour is learned, therefore responsible behaviour can be taught.
- Student discipline is best achieved through instruction rather than punishment.
- Student behaviour can be taught with the same strategies used in learning and teaching academic skills.
- Misbehaviour presents the student with an opportunity to learn, the educator with an opportunity to teach.
- For behaviour change to occur, we must use positive approaches that strengthen teacher-student-parent relationships.
- Student discipline is a collaborative effort. In partnership with parents and carers, we are committed to the success of each and every student.
- Efforts to support all students to become successful learners, confident and creative individuals and active and informed citizens require ongoing teaching, encouragement and correction.
- Students need and want high standards for their behaviour. Maintaining high expectations does not require "get tough" or punitive approaches.
- An integrated system of school wide, classroom support and individual student supports can play a central role in improving behavioural outcomes and developing learning disposition for the students we serve.
- This system also has the potential to contribute to an increased sense of efficacy and job satisfaction for our staff.
- Services for students with chronic or intense behaviours are more effective within the context of school-wide commitment to the social and academic development of all students.

2. Our Systems Approach – Positive Behaviour for Learning (PB4L)

What is Positive Behaviour for Learning?

PB4L is a framework (Diagram 1) for schools that uses a system approach to positive behaviour supports for all students. The aim of implementing the framework is to achieve increased academic and social progress and achievement for all students by using evidence-based practices. One of the focus areas is explicit teaching of behaviours that assists students to access learning – academically and socially – at all stages of development throughout their education.

Diagram 1: Adapted from School-Wide Positive Behaviour Support: Implementers' Blueprint and Self-Assessment, by OSEP Centre On Positive Behavioural Interventions and Supports, 2004, Eugene OR: Lewis.

At St Matthew's our goal is for all students to be engaged and motivated learners. The aim is for a holistic approach where we treat all with kindness, dignity and respect. We recognise that our students come to school with a broad range of life experiences and needs. These may at times impact on their ability to engage in learning and to interact positively with those around them. It is the responsibility of all adults in the school to help children learn skills which enhance the wellbeing of themselves and others.

PB4Learning is about people, practices and processes – it is not a program, but the way we work. The PB4L strategy is relational in nature incorporating good evidence-based practice and restorative justice principles. It integrates capability building with wise and thorough use of data.

Theoretical and conceptual characteristics

PB4L is the redesign of learning environments, not students. The theoretical and conceptual understandings of PB4Learning are firmly linked to Behavioural Theory and Applied Behavioural Analysis (Carr et al., 2002). This perspective emphasises that observable behaviour is an important indicator of what individuals have learned and how they operate in their environment. Environmental factors are influential in determining whether a behaviour is likely to occur, and new and alternative pro-social behaviours can be taught (Sugai & Horner, 2002; Sugai et al., 2008).

The theoretical and conceptual understandings of PB4Learning are firmly linked to Behavioural Theory and Applied Behavioural Analysis (Carr et al., 2002).

This perspective emphasises that observable behaviour is an important indicator of what individuals have learned and how they operate in their environment, behaviour is learned and rule governed, environmental factors are influential in determining whether a behaviour is likely to occur and new and alternative prosocial behaviours can be taught (Sugai & Horner, 2002; Sugai et al., 2008).

Continuum of support and key features

An important component of PB4L is the adoption of a continuum of behavioural supports (Diagram 2) that, like academic instruction, acknowledges that students will need differing levels of behavioural interventions and supports to be successful at school. Within the continuum there are three levels of support.

By building a connected continuum, everyone in the school is aware of how each level of support is connected to the universal systems i.e. every targeted and individualised intervention uses the universal set of behavioural expectations to increase the likelihood of maintenance and generalisation to other contexts.

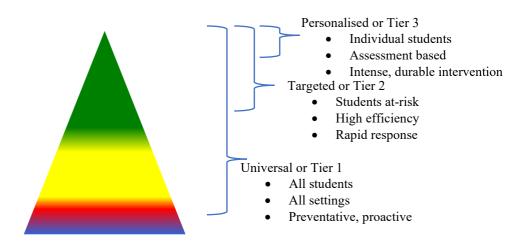

Diagram 2: Continuum of Student Supports.

Tier 1 Universal Supports:

This first level focuses on universal behavioural and academic supports for all students. Here the focus is on prevention of problem behaviours, providing explicit teaching of expected behaviours and creating positive learning environments across all settings in the school. Research has shown that approximately 80-85% of students will respond to proactive universal supports, display the desired appropriate behaviours, and have few behaviour problems (Horner & Sugai, 2005; Lewis, Newcomer, Trussell & Ritcher, 2006).

Tier 2 Targeted Supports:

This second level focuses on targeted supports for students who continue to display problem behaviour even with the universal supports in place. Using data analysis, students are identified early, before problem behaviours become intense or chronic, to receive targeted supports such as small group social skill instruction, academic supports, mentoring and/or self-management strategies (Sailor et al., 2013).

Tier 3 Personalised Supports:

This third level focuses on personalised supports that are intensive and individualised. These students will require highly individualised behaviour support programs based on a comprehensive behavioural assessment, which at times, will include mental health professionals and family and community services.

3. Student Behaviour Support Leadership & Professional Learning for School Staff.

In 2018 St. Matthew's had a review of our PB4L Plan. The review committee consisted of representatives from the teaching staff, school officers, school administration, support staff and parents. This committee will now form the PB4L committee and are responsible for regular reviews of the school plan. High level checks will be completed annually with a substantial review every 2nd year. Staff will be trained in the use of 'ENGAGE' Student Behaviour Support Systems which will help track students across the school. They can also use 'ENGAGE' to request support for individual students. Each week a Student Support Team consisting of Support Teachers, Guidance Counsellor, School Leadership Team and Teachers will meet to discuss individual support plans through the analysis of Engage Data.

Section B : Our Student Behaviour Support Practices

1. Clarity: Our Expectations

School-wide expectations encourage consistent communications and establish a common language of expectations for all staff and students and across all settings. Agreed upon student expectations promote the school's Catholic Identity and provide consistency across the staff and school community.

Our expectations are:

- Faith
- Knowledge
- Love

Our school-wide matrix (see Appendix A) determines the social skills and behaviours we expect all students and staff to learn, practice and demonstrate. They allow us to teach proactively and to provide students and parents with a positive message about behaviours for learning at school.

At St Matthew's, all classes develop a Class Covenant at the beginning of each year, formulated and agreed upon by teacher and students. The covenant is based upon school wide expectations, with an emphasis on fostering positive relationships using restorative justice principles.

In addition to our school expectations, our affective curriculum is informed by the General Capabilities in the Australian Curriculum. The General Capabilities encompass the knowledge, skills, behaviours, and dispositions that, together with curriculum content in each learning area and the cross-curriculum priorities, will assist students to live and work successfully in the twenty-first century.

The Personal and Social Capability is one of the seven General Capabilities that outlines student developmental stages of self-awareness, self-management, social awareness and social management. The behavioural and social emotional skills in this capability are to be taught through the learning areas of the approved curriculum (see www.acara.edu.au).

2. Focus: Teaching Expected Behaviour

Effective instruction requires more than providing the rule – it requires instruction, practice, feedback, reteaching, and encouragement (Sprague & Golly, 2005). Instruction takes place each day, throughout the day, all year long.

In addition, direct teaching may be done using some or a combination of the following:

- PB4L Team meets weekly.
- Each class designs their own Classroom Covenant.
- We have a whole school PB4L focus every 2 weeks that is taught and reinforced.
- Assemblies regularly communicate the whole school focus.
- The school will participate in community wide events like "No Bullying Day."
- Student leaders support younger peers (e.g. Buddy Groups focus on PB4L topics).

3. Feedback: Encouraging Productive Behaviours for Learning

Tier 1: Universal Supports

Feedback should cause thinking (Dylan Wiliam, 2011). In education, we use the term feedback for any information given to students about their current achievements (Wiliam, 2011 pp.122). Feedback to students provides them with the way to move their learning forward and make progress in their learning.

Our school should encourages and motivates students, both as they are learning the expected behaviours and then to maintain those skills and dispositions as students become more fluent with their use. Specifically, our school encouragement system utilises effective, specific positive feedback, adult attention (contingent and non-contingent) and a tangible reinforcement system.

The encouragement strategies in place for school and classroom include:

	Children who show behaviour above and beyond what is expected will receive a School Spirit Award.
You Can Do It! (including Program Achieve) which links to Tier 1 and PB4L teaching.	Every child in Yr 1-6 will participate in Rumble's Quest which will help staff obtain data on how the children are feeling about school (e.g. school Student Support Team can access wellbeing data readily to inform discussions around individual students).
Staff will use ENGAGE to help track children.	From 2020 our school will use Vivo to provide a reward system for positive behaviours.

Tier Two: Targeted Supports

Targeted evidence-based interventions play a key role in supporting students at risk of academic and social problems and may prevent the need for more intensive interventions (Sailor et.al., 2009). These students consistently have trouble with low level but disruptive behaviours that interfere with instruction and hinder student's learning. Targeted inventions should be timely and responsive and use similar strategies and social curriculum across a group of students.

Students are identified proactively, using academic, behaviour and attendance data accompanied by teacher nomination or through a screening process. Our targeted supports have systems in place to monitor student progress, make modifications, and gradually decrease support as student behaviour and engagement improves.

The evidence-based targeted supports currently available for students in the school include:

- The Behaviour Education Program (Check in-Check out) (Crone, Horner & Hawken, 2004). This evidence-based Tier 2 support builds on the school-wide expectations by providing students with frequent feedback and reinforcement from their teacher/s, a respected facilitator, and the student's parents for demonstrating appropriate behaviour and academic engagement. The goal is to move the student to self-management.
- The Check and Connect Mentoring Program (Christenson et al, 2012). The core of Check and Connect is a trusting, relationship between the student (Year 10 -12) and a caring, trained teacher mentor. This mentor both advocates for and challenges the student and partners with the family, school, and community to keep education salient for the student.
- Social Skills Clubs/Groups. This type of intervention involves directly teaching social skills to enhance a student's ability to interact with peers and adults. Whilst social skill instruction may be part of the work done in universal supports this type of targeted support occurs in smaller groups with students who require additional practice and feedback on their behaviour. A teacher or guidance counsellor facilitates this type of group.

Tier 3 Personalised Supports

Successful outcomes for student's whose behaviour has not responded to Universal or Targeted supports are dependent on our ability to intervene as early as possible with appropriate evidence–based interventions. A function-based approach is an essential feature of PB4L.

Personalised supports at St. Matthew's include:

- Functional Behavioural Assessment and designing an Individual Behaviour Support Plan.
- Pro-active, Collaborative Problem-Solving process.
- Guidance Counsellor support services.
- Student Support Team case management planning and implementation of individualised support plans and monitoring data.
- Partnerships with outside support agencies and specialists including BCE support staff.
- The Check and Connect Mentoring Program (Christenson et al, 2012).

4. Feedforward: Responding to unproductive behaviours

Even with our positive approach to teaching and supporting expected behaviours for learning, unproductive student behaviour will still occur. For some students, they do not know how to perform the expected behaviour, or don't know it well enough to routinely use it at the appropriate times. For some students, the maladaptive behaviours they are using appear to meet their needs. When responding to unproductive behaviours, all staff take a positive, supportive approach that builds, maintains, and sustains relationships with students.

To feedforward when responding to unproductive student behaviours, we have a system in place that enables staff to respond to minor unproductive behaviours efficiently and effectively, to chronic persistent minor behaviours and to major unproductive behaviours that hinder learning. In this continuum, thinking begins with clarity between minor behaviours (that can and should be managed by teachers, within the context of the classroom and non-classroom settings) and major behaviours (that are best managed in a more private setting with the class teacher and leadership in partnership). The definitions of teacher managed behaviours (Minor) and teacher plus leadership managed behaviours (Major) have been included in Appendix B.

Although the teacher is the key problem solver when responding to minor behaviours, they collaborate, and share creative strategies, with colleagues. Teachers respond to minor behaviours using best practices that include reminders of expectations, re-directing to learning and re-teaching behaviours. Appendix B includes a summary of examples that may be utilised.

The positive, support strategies currently in place for responding to unproductive behaviours at our school can be classified under the three evidence-based approaches recommended in BCE SBS policy and procedures, and include:

De-escalation	Problem-solving	Restorative
Supervised time out in a safe space in the classroom.	Teacher-student conversation.	Student apology.
Supervised time out in a safe space outside of the classroom.	Work it out together plan	Student contributes back to the class or school community.
Set limits.	Teacher–student–parent meeting.	Restorative conversation.
Individual crisis support and management plan.	Teacher–student– leadership conversation.	Restorative conference.

Appendix C contains a more detailed flowchart that staff use to problem-solve in supporting student behaviour and engagement.

5. BCE Regulations – Formal Sanctions

- Detention
- Suspension
- Negotiated Change of School
- Exclusion

For appeals, the school aligns to BCE processes.

6. Bullying and Cyber Bullying – information, prevention, and school responses

Bullying is a deliberate ongoing intention to hurt, threaten, intimidate or embarrass someone. Bullying can happen in real life or online, or both at the same time.

Bullyingis:

- A repetitive attack which causes distress not only at the time of the attack but also by the threat of futureattacks
- It is characterised by an imbalance of power
- It can be verbal / physical / social / psychological / sexual

A PERSON WHO BEHAVES LIKE A BULLY IS SOMEONE WHO REPEATEDLY:

- annoys others who will not stand up for themselves
- is usually with their friends when they annoy others
- teases or makes fun
- takes friends from others
- forms groups against others
- wants to boss everyone around
- thinks they have to be cruel to others to be tough
- makes other children unhappy
- tries to make children do something they don't want to do
- uses words or gestures to hurt others
- pushes, hits or kicks others
- damages or steals property
- targets others because of difference.

When a person is repeatedly:

- hit, punched or pushed around
- called hurtful or offensive names
- threatened
- a victim of abusive language
- ridiculed about their appearanceor abilities
- teased in a nastymanner
- having their property interfered with
- having offensive gestures made to them
- deliberately excluded

.....then he or she is being bullied.

It is NOT bullying when two people of about the same strength have the odd quarrel or fight. To be considered bullying it must be ongoing and intentional. This does not imply that fights and arguments are acceptable.

Here are some examples of bullying when they are "ongoing and intentional":

Physical Harassment

- Punching, pushing, kicking, slapping, poking
- Hair pulling, scratching, tripping, standing over someone
- Taking or damaging items that belong to others
- Forcing others to hand over food, money or other items
- Forcing others to do something against their will
- Making rude gestures e.g. monkey movements, extending the middle finger.

Verbal Harassment

• Making fun of someone because of appearance, physical characteristics or cultural background

- Making/calling out unacceptable comments (put downs)
- Echoing whatever someone says in a mocking voice
- Using rude words with a sexual meaning
- Making threats (with or without follow up)
- Making abusive phone calls.

Emotional Harassment and Cruelty

- Repeated teasing, whispering about someone behind their back
- Passing notes, emails, chatting on line, phone pranking about or to someone
- Laughing at someone's mistakes
- Excluding someone from group activities(with or without comment)
- Refusing to talk to someone
- Passing around nasty gossip with a view to making someone feel bad.

Social Harassment

- Exclusion/rejection
- Made to feel inferior, embarrassment, lack of acceptance
- Ostracizing or humiliation
- Cyber bullying.

Everyone at St Matthew's is responsible for taking an active stance against all forms of bullying behaviour. The Principal is responsible for the implementation of the PB4L policy and procedures. The Student Support Team take appropriate steps to ensure that the school community is regularly made aware of the policy and procedures that are in place.

Staff will:

- Act as role models of caring and tolerant behaviour.
- Listen to and respond promptly to reports of bullying.
- Endeavour to protect the target of bullying from further harm.
- Act to prevent the bullying behaviour reoccurring.
- Give strategies to the targets of bullying to empower them.
- Mediate between the two parties when appropriate.
- Report instances of bullying behaviours observed on the playground to the class teacher.
- Report all instances of bullying to the Student Support Team.
- Explicitly teach bullying awareness through specific classroom lessons related to the Health curriculum.

Students who are bullied will be:

- Encouraged to use strategies to empower them to deal with the bullying.
- Encouraged to speak to a teacher giving full details of the incident.
- Encouraged to develop and speak to a network of teachers and friends.

Students who witness bullying will:

- Intervene if they can safely stop the bullying.
- Immediately seek teacher help if they can't stop the bullying.
- Report all incidents of bullying to a teacher or other member of staff.

Parents will:

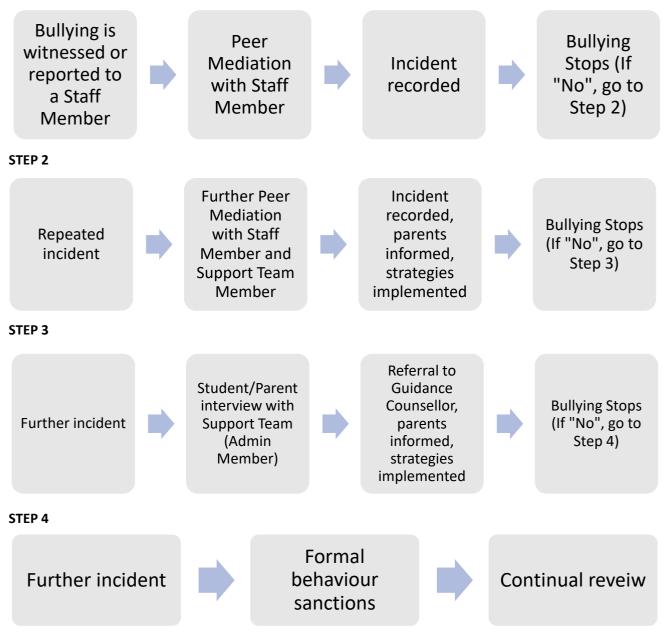

- Listen objectively and sympathetically to reports of bullying.
- Contact the school to arrange an appointment with the child's class teacher in the first instance.
- Work with the school to find a solution.
- Reinforce the strategies that have been taught to the students.

The School will:

- Conduct periodic surveys to determine the extent of bullying in the school from a student, parent and staff perspective.
- Organise focus days (e.g. Harmony Day, Bullying No Way! Day) each year.
- Organise liturgies and assemblies where the value of the individual is affirmed and the importance of qualities such as dignity, kindness, and respect.
- Provide activities which develop a culture of caring for one another and acknowledging the worth and contribution of others and which helps develop compassion.
- Make appropriate provision of counselling or other support services.
- Make provision of support for parents through information nights and support networks.
- Purchase classroom resources to support the creation of a school culture of Anti-Bullying.
- Emphasise the development of social competencies through social skills programs in each year level including You Can Do It! Program Achieve.
- Inform parents of any child who is involved in persistent and/or serious bullying incidents.
- Protect and support targets of bullying to eliminate the likelihood of them being bullied again.
- Work with parents of the child to establish joint strategies to assist the child making appropriate behavioural choices.
- Assist the child who is choosing to bully someone to change his/her behaviour and where appropriate discuss external supports.
- Remove any child who continues to bully from the playground/classroom/school in accordance with school policies for a period of time should there be no change in his/her behaviour.

Bullying and Harassment Flowchart

STEP 1

ICT Acceptable Use Agreement

Appendix D contains our ICT Acceptable Use Agreement. This provides guidelines around online behaviour and acceptable use of ICTs. We work with students and families to discuss responsible use of technology and the treatment of others online. Inappropriate use of technology and devices, or instances of cyberbullying or harassment, may result in device access restrictions or further formal behaviour sanctions (as per processes outlined above). Parents are encouraged to contact the school if there are any situations online that raise concerns.

What can you do if you are being bullied?

- Tell yourself that you do not deserve to be bullied and that it is wrong!
- Be proud of who you are. It is good to be individual.
- Try not to show that you are upset. It is hard but a bully thrives on someone's fear.
- Be assertive say "No!" and walk away confidently. Go straight to a teacher or a member of staff.

- Fighting back will usually make things worse. Tell your parents/guardian about the bully.
- It is best to tell an adult you trust straight away. If at first you do not feel you are being listened to tryagain.

Use the 'HIGH 5'

If you know someone is being bullied

- TAKE ACTION! Watching and doing nothing looks as if you are on the side of the bully. It makes the victim feel more unhappy and on their own.
- If you feel you cannot get involved, tell an adult IMMEDIATELY. Teachers have ways of dealing with the bully without getting you into trouble.
- Do not be, or pretend to be, friends with a bully.

Section C: Our Student Behaviour Support Data

1. Data Informed Decision Making

The BCE ENGAGE Support System is the database all BCE schools are required to use to collect behavioural data for analysis and decision-making. The ENGAGE system has capacity to record minor and major behavioural incidents so that schools can make data informed decisions about student supports. It also has capacity for schools to record, store and analysed Tier 2 Targeted and Tier 3 Personalised supports, information, and data.

It is mandatory for all BCE schools to be recording major incidents of bullying, weapons and drugs incidents and complete the accompanying record documentation in the system as comprehensively as possible. Suspension records are also mandatory to complete in the database.

St. Matthew's gathers behavioural data by using ENGAGE to register incidents when they occur. It helps in identifying patterns in terms of where and when incidents occur and respond accordingly. It also helps us track individual students and support them in their needs. Student Support Team Meetings occur weekly and behaviour data is used in decision making for targeted or personalised behaviour support plans.
